

Saving Earth

23 March 2022

We have taken lightning captive, we have made the sky our slave on our relentless quest for vengeance on an Earth we cannot save.

If all is lost, then songs cannot be sung, and yet this song goes on, so all must still be found somehow.

If we cannot save Earth,
can Earth save us?
Or is it not a matter
of saving, but of trust?
